The Charity

The Performing Arts Children's Charity (the Charity) is a UK Registered Charity (No. 1081561) founded in the year 2000 and is committed to delivering opportunities to children with special needs and disabilities (i.e. children with physical, mental, or learning disabilities) integrating them into the community by building their self-confidence, achieving greater independence, and overcoming social isolation through the use of the performing arts.

A significant number of children and young people in the UK have a disability. Recent government statistics state that 6% of children or close to 800,000 children have disabilities. Government statistics also show that there has been a dramatic increase in these numbers over the last 10 years. While the numbers of children with special needs and disabilities is increasing, the facilities for helping these children in the community are dramatically decreasing; there is now a greater need than ever for the Charity's programmes to help these children.

The Charity's classes and workshops are for 7 to 19 year olds and take place across the United Kingdom, operating in community centres, school halls while working closely with local special needs schools. Children benefit from the Charity's classes and workshops because:

- their special needs and disabilities are met in a positive way;
- they are supported and encouraged to achieve independence and to gain confidence;
- they work together in groups to achieve higher levels of self-esteem and gain friendships;
- they have the freedom to express themselves; and
- their families and carers needs are recognised.

Research concludes that children working together in a group achieve levels of self confidence and self esteem that would be impossible in isolation. The feedback that we receive from the children's parents and carers confirms these benefits work across the spectrum of disabilities.

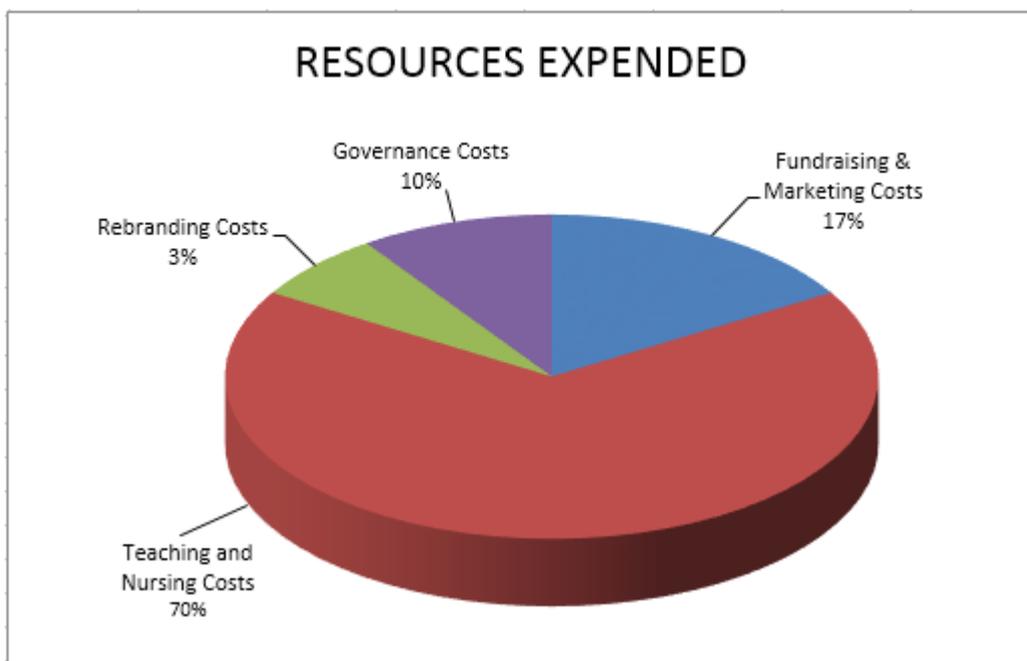

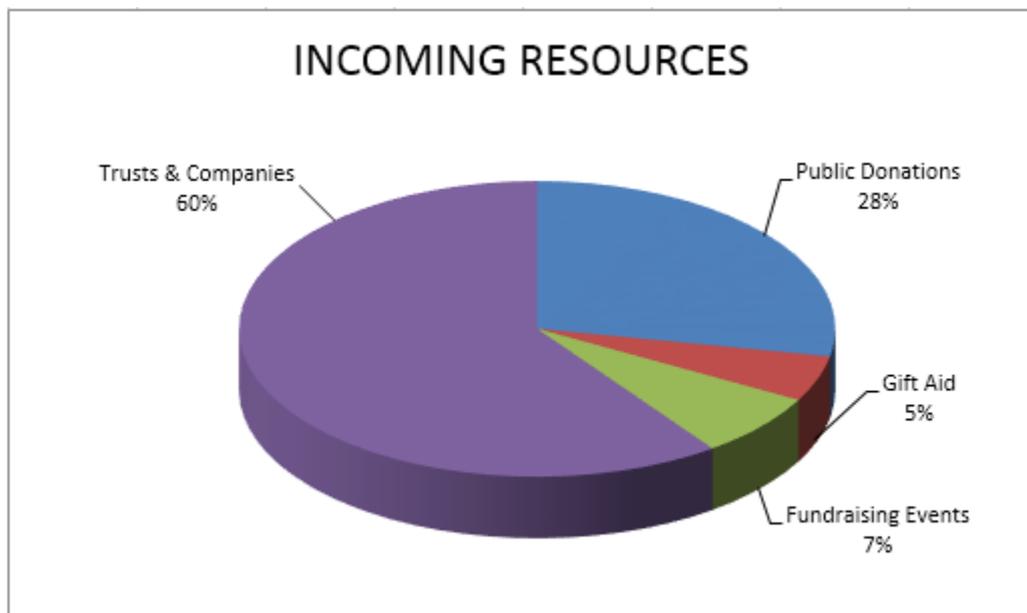

Classes and Workshops

- Activities are designed to be confidence building using the three disciplines of drama, movement and music.
- Our children generally fall within one of the following disability groups: Autism, Down's syndrome, Cerebral Palsy, Hearing Impaired and Profound Learning Difficulties.
- Classes and workshops operate weekly as 3 hours sessions. All staff are trained and contracted per group of sessions continually building their knowledge of the programme and students.
- Most sessions operate with 2 specialist teachers, 3 qualified care assistants and with up to 3 volunteers.
- Staff are DBS checked (criminal records) for child protection.
- All our Classes are fully compliant with up-to-date child protection rules, regulations and policies.
- The classes and workshops are subsidised by the charity thereby making them available to all income levels.

Highlights for the Year Ending 2015

- Over 300 classes and workshops took place for the year ending 31st August 2015.
- New management software and a database were implemented to reduce time spent on routine tasks.
- The Charity has reduced its costs dramatically by introducing administrative efficiencies and cutting the number of paid executive staff.
- Development of the 'InStep' Programme which allows the workshop outputs and outcomes to be monitored and evaluated more efficiently.
- The Charity is now connecting with the wider community; achieved through the name change, rebranding and finding new ways to tell our story via social media.
- Funds raised during the year: £87,486 (2014: £166,270).

Financial Summary 2015

The Trustees present this report together with the financial statements of the Charity for the year ended 31st August 2015. The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the accounting policies set out on pages 12 and 13 and comply with the Charity's trust deed and applicable law.

Structure, Governance and Management

The Performing Arts Children's Charity is constituted under a trust deed dated 4th January 2000 and is a Registered Charity, Number 1081561.

The Performing Arts Children's Charity is a Community of Stakeholders:

- Children and young people who attend our classes and workshops.
- Teachers who facilitate the classes using the performing arts.
- Volunteers from many walks of life, including: siblings, past students, and pupils from local schools; some who are working towards certifications such as The Duke of Edinburgh Award.
- Parents who engage and communicate their appreciation and full support.
- Supporters the numerous individuals, organisations and Trusts who actively support the Charity's work.
- Management who are responsible for the efficient delivery of the Charity's aims and objectives.
- Trustees who bring their time and talents to the Charity to make the Charity a rewarding and beneficial experience for all.

Trustees

Trustees are invited to the Charity's Board based on their expertise and relevance to the role.

All Trustees give their time voluntarily and receive no compensation nor are any expenses reimbursed from the Charity.

The Trustees are responsible for strategic decisions in the areas of provision of education, growth and financial targets. The final decision rests with the Trustees on all such matters but always in full consultation with the charity's coordination officer. All operational decisions are the responsibility of the coordination officer who will, where appropriate, delegate to staff (administration, managers and teachers) to achieve the aims of these activities and report to the Trustees accordingly.

The Charity's Administration Office is located in Parkway House, Suite 106, Sheen Lane, London, SW14 8LS.

Organisational Management and Partnerships

The Charity is an independent Registered Charity that generates its own activities and revenue. It has a strong relationship with the parents of the children (students attending classes and workshops), special needs schools and local communities, which support the Charity and its aims. An increasing number of other organisations (trusts and companies) also assist the Charity in its fundraising activities.

The Charity has a close relationship with a variety of performing arts schools as well as local and special needs schools, who recommend teaching staff and children who would benefit from our classes and workshops.

Risk Management

The Management and Trustees have examined the major strategic, business and operational risks which the Charity faces and confirm that regular reports are produced to enable the Charity to take steps to mitigate those risks.

Objectives and Activities

Mission Statement

"The Charity's mission is the inclusion and personal development of all children with special needs and disabilities to gain confidence and achieve independence through the performing arts; together with our funders and volunteers we add support to their families and strive to give these children the highest quality of life".

Vision

"Our vision is a world in which all children are different but not limited through their personal abilities".

Objectives of the Charity:

- To provide public benefit;
- To operate classes and workshops for children and young people with special needs and disabilities;
- To provide and sustain a high quality of teaching and outcomes at our classes and workshops;
- To build long term funding and support partnerships with companies, schools and organisations;
- To involve special needs and disabled children as positive role models.

How do the Charity's activities deliver public benefit?

We have referred to the guidance in the Charity Commission's general guidance on public benefit when reviewing our aims and objectives and in planning our future activities. In particular the Trustees consider how planned activities will contribute to the aims and objectives they have set.

The Charity is constantly striving to promote the rights and needs of children and young people with special needs and disabilities whilst providing a much needed service which appropriately meets their needs using drama, movement and music to develop skills that will stand them in good stead for their lives ahead.

The Charity places a high priority on the following benefits: improving choice and opportunity, combatting social isolation, countering negative attitudes and barriers to participation, involving disabled children as positive role models, and recognising the needs of families and carers.

Who used and benefited from our services?

Children and young people with special needs and disabilities (aged 7-19):

- with confidence issues;
- with special behavioural and educational needs;
- with special physical disabilities;
- who because of a disability could become victims of bullying;
- who come from a dysfunctional or disadvantaged family background; and
- from all income backgrounds.

Operate and expand our network of classes and workshops

The Charity's aim is to operate new classes and workshops in the future by working with the support from local organisations including special educational needs schools and their staff, targeting areas within a radius of an existing school with the greatest perceived need.

Sustain a high quality of teaching outcomes in our class and workshop programmes

Provide and sustain a high quality of teaching outcomes at our classes and workshops. The Performing Arts Children's Charity is dedicated to improving and sustaining its value to all of its stakeholders.

The Charity has developed mechanisms that help to achieve this:

- Teaching guidelines - Developed to orientate and update new and existing staff. This document has been issued to all teachers, assistant teachers and volunteers. The yearly curriculum is concisely formulated with input from all the teachers and teaching assistants; it sets out the correlation between the planned activities and the desired outcomes which is communicated clearly to all participants.
- Regular inspections - All classes/workshops are visited regularly by the operations officer or Trustees to ensure the teaching standards are maintained at a high standard. An emphasis is also placed on the pastoral care and rapport between staff and students.
- Monitoring and evaluation - The workshop outputs are closely monitored via attendance data, profile information, teacher reports, and parent feedback via interviews, open events and questionnaires. The workshop outcomes are monitored in the same way. Evaluation as to the effectiveness of the programme is made when all the monitoring data is collated.

Building long term funding and support partnerships with local companies, schools and organisations

The Charity will continue to develop a relationship with local and national organisations via its supporters locally.

Sustainable sources of influence that the charity targets are:

- Local 'Extended Schools Services' across the UK - This network of in-school administrators attached to special schools who manage students in the after-school environment are key influencers for the Charity. They are a valuable resource as they support the inclusion of children with special needs and disabilities in after-school activities. The Charity fits very closely with the aims of the Extended Schools Services across the UK.
- Local children's Services - The Charity is aware that many children and young people are 'hidden' from the opportunities that we offer because of the difficulties that they are experiencing in their own lives. With the support of children's services, both through local government bodies, independent groups and charities, The Performing Arts Children's Charity is always reaching out to these target groups.
- Performing Arts Schools - The Charity has a strong relationship with performing arts schools throughout the country who help raise money for the Charity with events and initiatives. These schools also act as a referral point for children who do not fit into their mainstream classes.
- Social Media Opportunities - Activities are frequently communicated on social media at local and national levels. Several initiatives are being planned to raise the awareness of The Performing Arts Children's Charity, for instance: cycling challenges, performance challenges and other participative activities that will help to raise funds for new projects, and also raise the public profile of the Charity.
- Other Projects - The Charity works with other charities to supply knowledge and management. An example is the Halow Project in Guildford which provides support for young people with learning difficulties; our charity helps source administrative, creative and operational resources for their in-house programmes.

Activities of the Charity

The Performing Arts Children's Charity operates inclusive classes and workshops designed to develop self-confidence and independence as well as skills for working in a social group and environment through the use of drama, movement and music. The Charity works diligently to make these classes and workshops accessible to as wide of a group of children and young people with special needs and disabilities as possible.

The Charity's key activities:

- Children between the ages of 7 and 19 attend our classes and workshops.
- Over 300 sessions classes and workshops operated for the year ending 31st August 2015.
- Activities are designed to be confidence building using the three disciplines of drama, movement and music.

During the financial year, the Charity undertook more fundraising from grant-making trusts, companies and other individuals to support specific classes and workshops.

The Charity is grateful for the work undertaken by its students, staff, voluntary staff, Trustees, and fundraisers as well as parents and friends of the Charity who have enabled it to sustain and expand its activity over the last 16 years.

Plans for the Future

The board and staff of the charity wish to be creative in considering new ways of providing our much needed services to the community. As a consequence we have undertaken a strategic review of the Charity and have outlined key areas which would benefit the Charity with improvements for the coming year.

The Charity's total expenditure was £100,669 (2014: £163,065) for the year. The decrease in expenditure resulted from cost savings activities to further the Charity's aims.

The overall deficit for the year was £13,183 (2014: surplus £3,205). There was a one-off expenses of restructuring and rebranding, this deficit was funded from reserves.

The Diamond Group Ltd donated office facilities and staff to the Charity on an ongoing basis. These costs are excluded from the Statement of Financial Activities, as the value of the support cannot be reasonably quantified in financial terms.

Reserve Policy

It is the policy of the Charity to maintain unrestricted funds, which are the free reserves of the Charity, at a level that will provide sufficient funds to cover the operating costs each academic term. Independent Examiner's Report to the Trustees of Stagecoach Charitable Trust

I report on the financial statements of the charity for the year ended 31 August 2015, which are set out on pages 10 to 18.

Respective Responsibilities of Trustees and Examiner

The Charity's Trustees are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements. The Charity's Trustees consider that an audit is not required for this year (under Section 144(2) of the Charities Act 2011 and that an independent examination is needed.

It is my responsibility to:-

- examine the financial statements (under section 145 of the 2011 Act);
- to follow the procedures laid down in the General Directions given by the Charity Commissioners (under section 145(5)(b) of the 2011 Act; and
- to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of Independent Examiner's Report

My examination was carried out in accordance with the general directions given by the Charity Commissioners. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the Charity and a comparison of the financial statements presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the financial statements, and seeking explanations from you as Trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and consequently I do not express an audit opinion on whether the accounts present a 'true and fair' view and the report is limited to those matters set out in the statement below.

Independent Examiner's Statement

In connection with my examination, no matter has come to my attention:-

- (a) which gives me reasonable cause to believe that in any material respect the requirements
- to keep accounting records in accordance with section 130 of the 2011 Act; and
 - to prepare financial statements which accord with the accounting records and to comply with the accounting requirements of the 2011 Act have not been met; or
